

Adjudication and Judicial Review in Immigration Cases: How Standards of Review Shape the Dialogue and the Process

October 25, 2007

3:45 p.m. – 5:15 p.m. (CLE)

Part of the 2007 Administrative Law Conference

Location: The National Press Club, Washington, D.C. / Teleconference

In some federal courts of appeals, immigration cases represent 40% or more of the docket. What Judge David Bazelon once referred to as “the long and fruitful collaboration of administrative agencies and reviewing courts” has been under some stress in this area. This panel will discuss how standards of administrative and judicial review affect the process of adjudication in removal proceedings. What type of dialogue does, might, or should exist between the hearing level Immigration Judges, the Board of Immigration Appeals, and the federal courts? The discussion will also address practical issues about how the standards of review relate in to agency and judicial workloads.

Panelists:

The Honorable Robert A. Katzmann, U.S. Court of Appeals for the Second Circuit, New York, NY

David M. McConnell, Deputy Director, Office of Immigration Litigation, U.S. Dept. of Justice Washington, DC

John R. B. Palmer, Research Scholar, New York Law School, New York, NY

Juan P. Osuna, Chairman, Board of Immigration Appeals, U.S. Dept. of Justice, Falls Church, VA
